Miss Susan Cushing of Croydon receives a parcel in the post that contains two severed human ears packed in coarse salt. Inspector Lestrade of Scotland Yard suspects a prank by three medical students whom Miss Cushing was forced to evict because of their unruly behaviour. The parcel was sent from Belfast, the city of origin of one of the former boarders. Upon examining the parcel himself, Holmes is convinced that it is evidence of a serious crime. He reasons that a medical student with access to a dissection laboratory would likely use something other than plain salt to preserve human remains and would be able to make a more precise cut than the roughly hacked ears suggest. The address on the package, roughly written and with a spelling correction, suggests to Holmes that the sender lacks education and is unfamiliar with Croydon. The knot in the string suggests to Holmes that they are looking for someone with sailing experience.

The Adventure of the Cardboard Box Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, 2005 In choosing a few typical cases which illustrate the remarkable mental qualities of my friend Sherlock Holmes I have endeavoured as far as possible to select those which presented the minimum of sensationalism while offering a fair field for his talents. It is however unfortunately impossible entirely to separate the sensational from the criminal and a chronicler is left in the dilemma that he must either sacrifice details which are essential to his statement and so give a false impression of the problem or he must use matter which chance and not choice has provided him with. With this short preface I shall turn to my notes of what proved to be a strange though a peculiarly terrible chain of events. It was a blazing hot day in August. Baker Street was like an oven and the glare of the sunlight upon the yellow brickwork of the house across the road was painful to the eye. It was hard to believe that these were the same walls which loomed so gloomily through the fogs of winter. Our blinds were half drawn and Holmes lay curled upon the sofa reading and re-reading a letter which he had received by the morning post. For myself my term of service in India had trained me to stand heat better than cold and a thermometer at ninety was no hardship But the morning paper was uninteresting Parliament had risen Everybody was out of town and I yearned for the glades of the New Forest or the shingle of Southsea A depleted bank account had caused me to postpone my holiday and as to my companion neither the country nor the sea presented the slightest attraction to him He loved to lie in the very center of five millions of people with his filaments stretching out and running through them responsive to every little rumour or suspicion of unsolved crime Appreciation of nature found no place among his many gifts and his only change was when he turned his mind from the evil doer of the town to track down his brother of the country

We may take it that the sender of the packet is the man whom we want. But he must have some strong reason for sending Miss Cushing this packet. What reason then? It must have been to tell her that the deed was done or to pain her perhaps But in that case she knows who it is Does she know I doubt it If she knew why should she call the police in She might have buried the ears and no one would have been the wiser That is what she would have done if she had wished to shield the criminal But if she does not wish to shield him she would give his name There is a tangle here which needs straightening to He had been talking in a high quick voice staring blankly up over the garden fence but now he sprang briskly to his feet and walked towards the house
