Family Forms in Historic Europe Cambridge Group for the History of Population and Social Structure, 1983-03-10 The family forms of historic Europe have been fascinating in their variety Their importance for the historical development of our continent would be difficult to exaggerate for our relationship with the peoples of the other continents of the world as well This book is an attempt to recover the different familial systems and compare them with one another The studies range from Russia Poland Hungary and Austria to Scandinavia Flanders and Britain All the influences which have affected the character and composition of European households are taken into account The analysis covers their function as productive work groups in the procreation and bringing up of children and in the support of the elderly and their relationship with the wider society and its norms along with its political organization central and local Claims that inheritance customs and inheritance practice and the occupation of the household head exerted a powerful influence on the size and composition of households are subjected to rigorous and systematic investigation

Stoned Aja Raden, 2015-12-01 As entertaining as it is incisive Stoned is a raucous journey through the history of human desire for what is rare and therefore precious What makes a stone a jewel What makes a jewel priceless And why do we covet beautiful things In this brilliant account of how eight jewels shaped the course of history jeweler and scientist Aja Raden tells an original and often startling story about our unshakeable addiction to beauty and the darker side of human desire What moves the world is what moves each of us desire Jewelry which has long served as a stand in for wealth and power glamor and success has birthed cultural movements launched political dynasties and started wars Masterfully weaving together pop science and history Stoned breaks history into three categories Want Take and Have and explains what the diamond on your finger has to do with the GI Bill why green tinted jewelry has been exalted by so many cultures why the glass beads that bought Manhattan for the Dutch were initially considered a fair trade and how the French Revolution started over a coveted necklace Studded with lively personalities and fascinating details Stoned tells the remarkable story of our abiding desire for the rare and extraordinary The Marriage, Baptismal and Burial Registers, 1571-1874, and Monumental Inscriptions of the Dutch Reformed Church, Austin Friars, London William John Charles Moens,1884 Simiolus ,2008 Northern Renaissance Art Susie Nash,2008-11-27 This book offers a wide ranging introduction to the way that art was made valued and viewed in northern Europe in the age of the Renaissance from the late fourteenth to the early years of the sixteenth century Drawing on a rich range of sources from inventories and guild regulations to poetry and chronicles it examines everything from panel paintings to carved altarpieces While many little known works are foregrounded Susie Nash also presents new ways of viewing and understanding the more familiar such as the paintings of Jan van Eyck Rogier van der Weyden and Hans Memling by considering the social and economic context of their creation and reception Throughout Nash challenges the perception that Italy was the European leader in artistic innovation at this time demonstrating forcefully that Northern art and particularly that of the Southern Netherlands dominated visual culture throughout Europe in this crucial period The Reign of Lewis XI. Paul Ferdinand Willert,1876 The Chronicles of England, France, Spain Etc. Etc Jean Froissart,1891 Henry VIII and the Art of Majesty Thomas P. Campbell,2007 Campbell sheds light on Tudor political and artistic culture and the court s response to Renaissance aesthetic ideals He challenges the predominantly text driven histories of the period and offers a fresh perspective on the life of Henry VIII OCLC The english works of John Wyclif John Wycliffe,1880 Painting in Bruges, 1470-1550 E.
