Duvall, 2011-12-08 Each generation revises literary history and this is nowhere more evident than in the post Second World War period This 2011 Companion offers a comprehensive authoritative and accessible overview of the diversity of American fiction since the Second World War Essays by nineteen distinguished scholars provide critical insights into the significant genres historical contexts cultural diversity and major authors during a period of enormous American global political and cultural power This power is overshadowed nevertheless by national anxieties growing out of events ranging from the Civil Rights Movement to the rise of feminism from the Cold War and its fear of Communism and nuclear warfare to the Age of Terror and its different yet related fears of the Other American fiction since 1945 has faithfully chronicled these anxieties An essential reference guide this Companion provides a chronology of the period as well as guides to further reading The Cambridge Companion to American Novelists Timothy Parrish, 2012-11-12 This Companion examines the full range and vigor of the American novel From the American exceptionalism of James Fenimore Cooper to the apocalyptic post Americanism of Cormac McCarthy these newly commissioned essays from leading scholars and critics chronicle the major aesthetic innovations that have shaped the American novel over the past two centuries The essays evaluate the work life and legacy of influential American novelists including Melville Twain James Wharton Cather Faulkner Ellison Pynchon and Morrison while situating them within the context of their literary predecessors and successors The volume also highlights less familiar though equally significant writers such as Theodore Dreiser and Djuna Barnes providing a balanced and wide ranging survey of use to students teachers and general readers of American literature Street, Text, and Representation in African American Literature Mattius Rischard, 2024-05-31 Comprehensive and comparative this volume investigates African American street novelists since the Chicago Black Renaissance and the semiotic strategies they employ in publication consumption and depiction of street life Divided into three chapters this text analyzes the content style and ethics of street narrative through a discursive rhetorical lens exploring the development of street literature s formal and contextual concerns to resolve the sociocultural and political questions surrounding cultural work The book also gives emphasis to text or post structural literary analysis by answering questions about the genre s aesthetic and linguistic techniques that respond to the injustices of urban planning The last chapter Representation investigates the phenomenological hermeneutics of more recent street literature and its satire highlighting the political stakes for authorship credibility and subjectivity Through historical and contemporary studies of urban space Blackness and adaptations of street literature this work attempts to network activists artists and scholars with the greater reading public by providing a functional ontology of reading the inner city

Awakening to Race Jack Turner, 2012-09-20 The election of America's first black president has led many to believe that race is no longer a real obstacle to success and that remaining racial inequality stems largely from the failure of minority groups to take personal responsibility for seeking out opportunities Often this argument is made in the name of the long tradition of self reliance and American individualism In Awakening to Race Jack Turner upends this view arguing that it expresses not a deep commitment to the values of individualism but a narrow understanding of them Drawing on the works of Ralph Waldo Emerson Henry David Thoreau Frederick Douglass Ralph Ellison and James Baldwin Turner offers an original reconstruction of democratic individualism in American thought All these thinkers he shows held that personal responsibility entails a refusal to be complicit in injustice and a duty to combat the conditions and structures that support it At a time when individualism is invoked as a reason for inaction Turner makes the individualist tradition the basis of a bold and impassioned case for race consciousness consciousness of the ways that race continues to constrain opportunity in America Turner's new individualism becomes the grounds for concerted public action against racial injustice

Speculative Time Paul Crosthwaite, 2024-01-30 Speculative Time American Literature in an Age of Crisis examines how a climate of financial and economic speculation and disaster shaped the literary culture of the United States in the early to mid twentieth century It argues that speculation's risk laden and crisis prone temporalities had major impacts on writing in the period as well as on important aspects of visual representation The conceptions of time and especially futurity arising from the theory and practice of speculation provided crucial models for writers and other artists aesthetic intellectual and political concerns and strategies The attractions and dangers of speculation were most spectacularly apparent in the period's pivotal economic event the Wall Street Crash of 1929 The book offers an innovative account of how the speculative boom and bust of the Roaring Twenties affected literary and cultural production in the United States It situates the stock market gyrations of the 1920s and 1930s within a wider culture of speculation that was profoundly shaped by but extended well beyond the brokerages and trading floors of Wall Street The early to mid twentieth century was a speculative time an age characterized by leaps of economic political intellectual and literary speculation and the notion of speculative time provides a means of understanding the period s characteristic temporal modes and textures as evident in work by figures including F Scott Fitzgerald John Dos Passos Nathan Asch William Faulkner Federico Garc a Lorca James N Rosenberg Margaret Bourke White Archibald MacLeish Christina Stead Claude McKay Richard Wright and Ralph Ellison
