Excerpt from The Breitmann Ballads In conclusion I acknowledge the courtesy of Messrs Dalziel brothers for allowing me to republish here four poems which had appeared in the Brand New Ballads published by them in 1885 But to mention all the people of whom I have grateful memories in connection with the work who have become acquainted with me through it or written to me or said pleasant words would be impossible I am happy to think that it would embrace many of the Men of the Times during the past twenty years and unfortunately too many who are now departed And trusting that the reader will take in good part all that I have said I remain his true friend for truly there is no friend dearer than a devoted reader About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Breitmann Ballads, by Charles G. Leland Charles G. Leland, 1905 The Breitmann Ballads Charles Godfrey Leland, 1871 The Breitmann Ballads Charles Godfrey Leland, The ballad Breitmann's Going to Church is based on a real occurrence A certain colonel with his men did really during the war go to a church in or near Nashville and as the saying is kicked up the devil and broke things to such an extent that a serious reprimand from the colonel's superior officer was the result The fact is guaranteed by Mr Leland who heard the offender complain of the cruel and heartless stretch of military authority As regards the firing into the guerilla ball room it took place near Murfreesboro on the night of Feb 10 or 11 1865 and on the next day Mr Leland was at a house where one of the wounded lay On the same night a Federal picket was shot dead near Lavergne and the next night a detachment of cavalry was sent off from General Van Cleve's quarters the officer in command coming in while the author was talking with the general for final orders They rode twenty miles that night attacked a body of guerillas captured a number and brought back prisoners early next day The same day Mr Leland with a small cavalry escort and a few friends went out into the country during which ride one or two curious incidents occurred illustrating the extraordinary fidelity of the blacks to Federal soldiers The explanation of the poem entitled The First Edition of Breitmann is as follows It was not long after the war that a friend of the writer's to whom the Breitmann Ballads had been sent in MSS and who had frequently urged the former to have them published resolved to secure at least a small private edition though at his own expense Unfortunately the printers quarrelled about the MSS and as the writer understood the entire concern broke up in a row in consequence And in fact when we reflect on the amount of fierce attack and recrimination we reflect this unpretending and peaceful little volume elicited after the appearance of the fifth English edition and the injury which it sustained from garbled and falsified editions in not less than three unauthorised reprints it would really seem as if this first edition which died a boring had been typical of the stormy path to which the work was predestined Hans Breitmann in Church.
