Horticultural Crops: A Recurrent/New Challenge for Plant Scientists in a Changing World Nadia Bertin, Michel Génard, Maarten Hertog, 2018-10-11 Besides increasing crop yield to feed the growing population, improving crop quality is a challenging and key issue. Indeed, quality determines consumer acceptability and increases the attractiveness of fresh and processed products. In this respect, fruit and vegetables, which represent a main source of vitamins and other health compounds, play a major role in human diet. This is the case in developing countries where populations are prone to nutritional deficiencies, but this is also a pending issue worldwide where the growing middle class is increasingly aware and in search of healthy food. So a future challenge for the global horticultural industry will be to answer the demand for better quality food in a changing environment where many resources will be limited. This e-collection collates state-of-the-art research on the quality of horticultural crops, covering the underlying physiological processes, the genetic and environmental controls during plant and organ development, and the postharvest evolution of quality during storage and processing.

Building Sustainable Agriculture for Food Security in the Euro-Mediterranean Area Maria Cristina Paciello, 2015-06-19 Sustainable agriculture and food security are of particular concern for the countries of the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region and represent one of the biggest challenges facing the area. As a consequence of the region's heavy reliance on food imports, the sharp increase in food prices since 2007 and the consequent world food crisis has had macro-economic problems, inflation, trade deficits, fiscal pressure, increased poverty, and political instability. This challenge, coupled with the consequences of environmental degradation, water scarcity, urbanization, and climate stress, call for the urgent development of sustainable agriculture. This has mostly been ignored in Euro-Mediterranean relations due to strong opposition from the EU. However, academics and policymakers have increasingly acknowledged that agriculture that needs to be placed at the core of Euro-Mediterranean regional cooperation. Given the sensitiveness and strategic importance of agriculture for both shores of the Mediterranean, the IAI and the OCP Policy Center jointly organized a two-day conference in Rabat on November 20-21, 2014, to discuss food security and agriculture challenges in the framework of Euro-Mediterranean relations. The present volume collects the updated and revised versions of the twelve papers that were discussed in that meeting.
