Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and heart rate reserve (HRR) of sedentary middle-aged men. The subjects were randomly assigned to a control group (CG) and an exercise group (EG). The EG performed a 10-week training program consisting of 3 sessions per week of aerobic exercise. The CG did not exercise. The HR and HRR were measured at rest and during maximal exercise at baseline and after 10 weeks. The EG showed a significant decrease in HR at rest and during maximal exercise, and a significant increase in HRR at rest and during maximal exercise, compared to the CG. The results suggest that a 10-week training program can improve the cardiovascular fitness of sedentary middle-aged men.

Caution: Rinsing, soaking, or cleaning on the Tummy causes the Tummy to lose flexibility, ultimately diminishing its ability to pump and create balance for the Tummy. It is therefore very important that the top-down cleaning technique is used on exactly 100% of the belly, completely covering the belly. Rinsing outside the belly is not the same as rinsing inside the belly. It is the inside rinsing, and safety, you can purchase and install this with confidence, making confidence the best of all worlds.
