and visualization tasks. The book includes a case study analyzing the data required to predict the results of presidential elections in the state of Maine for 2016 and 2020. In addition to the presidential elections, the book provides real life examples including analyses of stock, oil and gold prices, crime, marketing and healthcare. You will see data science in action and how easily it can be performed using complicated tasks and visualizations in SAS Studio. You will learn step by step how to perform visualizations including creating maps. In most cases, you will not need a line of code as you work with the SAS Studio graphical user interface. The book includes explanations of the code that SAS Studio generates automatically. You will learn how to edit this code to perform more complicated advanced tasks. What You Will Learn: Become familiar with the SAS Studio IDE. How to create essential visualizations. Know the fundamental statistical analysis required in most data science and analytics reports. Clean the most common dataset problems. Learn linear and logistic regression for data prediction and analysis. Write programs in SAS. How to analyze data and get insights from it for decision making. Learn character, numeric, date, time and datetime functions and typecasting.

Who This Book Is For: A general audience of people who are new to data science, students and data analysts and scientists who are new to SAS. No prior programming or statistical knowledge is required.

Frontiers in Enterprise Integration Li D. Xu, 2020-10-28. Enterprise Information Systems (EIS) integrate and support business processes across functional boundaries in a supply chain environment and have become increasingly popular over the last 15 years. In recent years, more and more enterprises world wide have adopted EIS such as Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) for running their businesses. Previously, information systems such as CAD, CAM, MRPII and CRM were widely used for partial functional integration within a business organization. With global operation, global supply chain and fierce competition in place, there is a need for suitable EIS such as ERP, E-Business or E-Commerce systems to integrate extended enterprises in a supply chain environment with the objective of achieving efficiency, competency and competitiveness. As a result, there is a growing demand for researching EIS to provide insights into
